“Three groups of employees participated in the LTW program, with all of them indicating great interest and enthusiasm in the training. The participants hold key functions to our business, such as Engineering, IT and Software Testing. Proof for the excellent job done by the instructors is evident in the exceptionally high attendance rate. The instructors showed full commitment and their teaching methods were graded very high based on feedback by all participants. Their involvement and passion for the language was clearly displayed in the progress seen in all participants at the end of the LTW program.”
