The image shows the Google Sign in page. On the left, there is a Google 'G' logo, the text 'Sign in', and 'to continue to Gmail'. In the center, there is a text input field labeled 'Email or phone' with a cursor inside. Below the input field is a link 'Forgot email?'. Further down, there is a message: 'Not your computer? Use a private browsing window to sign in. Learn more about using Guest mode'. At the bottom right of the sign-in area, there are two links: 'Create account' and 'Next'. The 'Create account' link is circled in red, and a red arrow points from the text 'Click "Create account"' to it. At the very bottom of the page, there is a language selector 'English (United States)' with a dropdown arrow, and links for 'Help', 'Privacy', and 'Terms'.

The screenshot shows the Google account review interface. On the left, the Google logo is at the top, followed by the heading "Review your account info" and the subtext "You can use this email address to sign in later". On the right, a profile icon with the letters "xx" is shown next to the name "xx yy" and the email address "xxyy6532@gmail.com". A red arrow points from the text "Check this is correct" to the email address. At the bottom right of the main content area is a blue "Next" button, with a red arrow pointing from the text "Then, click on 'Next'" to it. The footer contains a language selector set to "English (United States)" and links for "Help", "Privacy", and "Terms".

Privacy and Terms

To create a Google Account, you'll need to agree to the Terms of Service below.

In addition, when you create an account, we process your information as described in our Privacy Policy, including these key points:

Data we process when you use Google

- When you set up a Google Account, we store information you give us like your name, email address, and telephone number.
- When you use Google services to do things like write a message in Gmail or comment on a YouTube video, we store the information you create.
- When you search for a restaurant on Google Maps or watch a video on YouTube, for example, we process information about that activity – including information like the video you watched, device IDs, IP addresses, cookie data, and location.
- We also process the kinds of information described above when you use apps or sites that use Google services like ads, Analytics, and the YouTube video player.

Why we process it

We process this data for the purposes described in our policy, including to:

- Help our services deliver more useful, customized content such as more relevant search results;
- Improve the quality of our services and develop new ones;
- Deliver personalized ads, depending on your account settings, both on Google services and on sites and apps that partner with Google;
- Improve security by protecting against fraud and abuse; and
- Conduct analytics and measurement to understand how our services are used. We also have partners that measure how our services are used. Learn more about these specific advertising and measurement partners.

Combining data

We also combine this data among our services and across your devices for these purposes. For example, depending on your account settings, we show you ads based on information about your interests, which we can derive from your use of Search and YouTube, and we use data from trillions of search queries to build spell-correction models that we use across all of our services.
